£40,000 grant gives arts group funding it needs to save theatre

THE Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow has been spared an untimely curtain call after the group battling to save the building from closure received an unexpected funding boost.

Harlow Performing Arts Group is now in a position to meet Essex County Council's asking price of £100,000 for the Bury Road building after receiving £40,000 from the authority's own Community Initiatives Fund.

The grant has been split into two, with £30,000 to go towards the price of the premises and the remaining £10,000 paying for a structural survey and legal fees.

The remainder of the asking price will be met using money raised by a series of events organised by the venue's official fundraisers, The Friends of Johnny Wong. The charitable group was set up in 2007 in memory of the talented amateur actor and director who was killed in a car crash.

Victoria Hall Theatre is used regularly by Harlow Theatre Company, Class Act Theatre School and several other local amateur dramatic groups.

Christopher Jolly, chairman of the Harlow Performing Arts Group, told the Star: "Buying the Victoria Hall Theatre has been a long-cherished plan.

"We are most grateful for the support and generous help given which will secure its future as an outstanding community theatre."

The group has been fighting to secure the long-term future of

Health agency in talks over move to GSK site

THE Health Protection Agency could take over part of the GlaxoSmithKline site in Harlow.

The pharmaceuticals giant, which recently announced it was set to scale down operations at its New Frontiers Science Park in Pinnacles making hundreds of staff redundant, is currently locked in talks with the HPA about a possible takeover part of the site.

The HPA – set up in 2003 to provide an integrated approach to public health protection through support and advice to the NHS, local authorities, emergency services and the Department of Health – had originally considered a move to the former Merck, Sharpe and Dohme site at Terlings Park but has reconsidered following intervention by Harlow Council and Harlow MP Bill Rammell.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: “We were fast out of the traps and I’m delighted that the hard work has paid off. There’s still a long way to go but the council will do all that it can to work with both organisations to secure jobs and investment for Harlow.

“In the meantime we will continue to work closely with partners to ensure that anyone affected by redundancy is able to access advice and support in finding a new job, retraining or starting a new business.”

Mr Rammell welcomed the prospect of job opportunities the proposed move would bring to the town but reiterated his concerns over the future of GSK.

“I am delighted with this development but I remain committed to securing the best deal for GSK staff facing redundancy,” he said.

“Since redundancies were announced I have been firmly committed to pressing GSK to find alternatives for the Harlow site.

“This announcement confirms that Harlow remains an attractive option for investment which is very positive news.”

Tree memorial to town's fallen hero

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE family and friends of a Harlow soldier killed in Afghanistan gathered to plant a tree in his memory at the Town Park on Monday.

Private Robert Foster's parents, John and Lisa, were joined by relatives to remember their son who died alongside two comrades when an American plane bombed their position following a mix-up over grid references.

They planted an English oak sapling in the park's Specimen Garden.

But the event was not a sombre affair as those present shared humorous memories and celebrated the life of the popular 19-year-old who was known as ‘Frog’ to his friends.

“One of the Chinese lanterns we lit ended up getting stuck in a tree which we had a little laugh about,” said Mr Foster, of Great Plumtree.

“We thought it was Robbie's spirit that blew it that way. He was a lovely lad with the right amount of devil and a wicked sense of humour. That would've been Rob.

“We didn't expect that many people to turn up and we spoke about what he meant to us all.

“As one family member put it, he was a small pebble dropped in a big pond. He made a lot of ripples and had a big affect on a lot of people's lives.”

The planting ceremony was jointly organised by Harlow Council and Robert's uncle, Peter Ginn.

“We wanted to do something for John and Lisa,” said Mr Ginn. “It is somewhere where they and others can go to remember Robert.

“He was a proud soldier from a military background and he was very keen. I can remember him coming home on leave; he could not wait to get back again.

“I think it was the sense of comradeship he had. He will never, ever be forgotten.”

Private Foster died alongside Aaron McClure (19), from Ipswich, and John Thrumble (21), from Chelmsford, while engaged in close-quarter fighting on August 23, 2007.

the venue ever since the county council deemed the building surplus to requirements in 2002.

ECC was initially seeking £155,000 for the freehold and granted a two-year extension to the lease in February last year to allow the group more time to raise the necessary funds.

But following negotiations last month involving Mr Jolly, county councillor John Jowers and Harlow Conservative Parliamentary candidate Rob Halfon, a deal was finally struck for the county council to part-fund the purchase of the building at a reduced price.

Mr Jowers said: “The money that Essex County Council has given to enable the purchase of the theatre means it will remain open for many years and can be enjoyed by Harlow residents for generations to come.”

Mr Halfon added: “The theatre is a magical place. It is run by a committee that is among one of the most passionate that I have ever seen.

“It is wonderful that this theatre will soon own its premises. Our community will benefit by having an even stronger and better theatre in Old Harlow in a most magnificent hall.”

Drugs den boarded up after police raid

POLICE have closed down a drugs den used by dealers to sell Class A substances from the living room window.

Officers armed with a closure order granted by Harlow magistrates on Friday swooped on the flat in Shawbridge which has been a haven for drug addicts.

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

They battered down the door and arrested one woman inside. Another woman was ordered to leave the premises.

It is now a criminal offence for anyone to enter the property without police permission.

Sergeant Lewis Basford, of the Harlow Neighbourhood Policing Team, said: "People were often scared of coming forward but we can use hearsay evidence in court to get this kind of order."

"We now have control of the property for three months but then after that it will go back into the control of the local authority."

An earlier police raid three weeks ago resulted in the seizure of used needles, drugs paraphernalia and suspected stolen property. A man was charged and a woman cautioned after being arrested on suspicion of burglary and abstracting electricity.

Police then applied to the courts under the Anti-Social Behaviour Act for a civil closure order.

PCSO Megan Skinner said: "This closure would not have been possible if it wasn't for local contacts coming forward with information regarding this property and its residents."

One local resident, who did not want to be named, said the community had been blighted by the presence of the drugs den.

"It has caused a lot of trauma for the people in the area," he said. "The children could not play outside because we knew there were drug problems within the area."

He added: "I'm hoping we can move forward now. Before, everyone was scared of speaking out but now everyone has come together because our community doesn't want the same problem we've had in the past 18 months."

Councillor Lee Dangerfield, chairman of Harlow Council's housing committee, told the Star: "We are really grateful to the residents of this area for coming forward."

"This sends out a clear message to those who use illegal drugs – the council and police will come and get you."

DRUGS BUST:

Right, Sergeant Lewis Basford examines some of the items that were seized.

Below, a suspect is led away by police after being arrested.

Three arrests in targeted crackdown on known crooks

THREE people were arrested in Harlow during early morning raids targeting suspects involved in burglary, drug offences and the handling of stolen goods.

Police executed warrants at five properties in the town – as well as others across the Epping Forest district and Brentwood – as part of Operation Sutton.

A total of 11 arrests were made and various items including bags of suspected cannabis and amphetamines, cannabis plants and drugs paraphernalia were seized.

A ball-bearing gun, an air weapon, firearms ammunition and four knives were also recovered.

Assistant Superintendent Keith Dobson said: "This operation is the result of combining police intelligence and information provided by the public on local burglars over the past few weeks."

"Over 40 officers, supported by neighbourhood specialist officers and trained door entry teams from police support units began the operation at 6.30am on Friday morning."

"Search warrants had been obtained aimed at known burglars, receivers of stolen property and those who supply drugs in exchange for stolen property."

"The operation demonstrates our determination to identify and arrest those who wish to commit crime in our communities and to provide confidence to our residents that we will do everything possible to reduce crime and make safer communities for us all to live and work."

An 18-year-old and a 17-year-old from Harlow were charged with possession of drugs. They were bailed to appear at Harlow Magistrates' Court and Harlow Youth Court later this month.

No further action will be taken against an 18-year-old woman who was also arrested in Harlow.

You're one-stop website for all things property

The Harlow Star has launched HomesNow.co.uk – our new online property website for the region.

The site covers Essex, Hertfordshire and Cambridgeshire along with parts of Suffolk, Buckinghamshire, Bedfordshire, Northants, Warwickshire and Staffordshire.

It has been built by the same property portal developers behind the largest national homes site in the US and seeks to provide a one-stop solution for people interested in property throughout a whole swathe of the country.

Graham Ayres, managing director of Star publisher Herts & Essex Newspapers, said: "We have been working closely with agents to come up with the best online property solution for the markets which we serve and believe that HomesNow.co.uk offers just that.

"An added advantage we can bring is our knowledge of the areas and this site should prove to be the natural companion to our already highly successful in-paper property sections, which will also be rebranded HomesNow.co.uk."

OAP's relatives brand her killer a 'vile monster'

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A YOUNG man who carried out a savage attack on a disabled pensioner has been told he must serve at least 22 years in jail for her murder before he is even considered for parole.

Scott Riley (26), of Parsonage Leys, Harlow, stabbed victim Jennifer North 15 times.

He was given a life sentence and told by Judge Christopher Ball at Chelmsford Crown Court he must serve a minimum of 22½ years behind bars.

Even then he will not be entitled to be freed automatically. It will be for the Parole Board to decide whether it is safe to release him back into society.

Passing sentence, the judge said: "She was a lovely woman with many years ahead of her and you took her life for no reason at all other than being a drink and drug obsessed man. You were unable to control yourself and inflicted upon her a terrible, terrible, death."

Tension filled the packed court and comments from the public gallery resulted in one member of Mrs North's family being ordered to leave. Afterwards, her family described Riley as a "vile monster".

In a statement, they said: "Losing a loved one is hard enough but having your loved one brutally murdered is beyond comprehension. We are tormented by the fear and pain she suffered. We are all devastated, our lives will never be the same. He took her life but our memories he can never take from us."

Riley admitted murdering Mrs North near her home at Hadley Grange, Harlow.

In sentencing Riley, the judge rejected a prosecution claim he inflicted the fatal injuries in the course of another crime, which could have brought a 30-year minimum sentence.

KILLER: Scott Riley

VICTIM: Jennifer North

Mrs North had arrived home after an evening out with family in a pub in Tunbridge Wells on February 27.

David Holborn, prosecuting, said Mrs North was declared dead shortly after arrival at the Princess Alexandra Hospital. She had dialled 999 "struggling to speak pleading for an ambulance; she thought she was going to die."

A post mortem examination revealed she died from shock caused by multiple stab wounds.

Following the attack, Riley went home and changed and then went to Fat Sams in the town centre where he spoke to a young woman. They went to her home and had sex before he returned to his home.

The court heard he had a string of previous convictions dating back to the age of 12.

Mr Holborn said: "The Crown's case is that this defendant murdered a defenceless woman.

"She was disabled and was simply minding her own business having been out socialising for the evening. She was harming no-one and was subjected to an attack by this defendant of considerable savagery which resulted in her death."

Mrs North lived alone in a ground floor flat which was part of a set of four in Hadley Grange. She was an amputee, having lost her left leg through illness six years previously.

Mr Holborn said Riley had earlier visited a flat at Hadley Grange to buy cannabis and had stolen Mrs North's keys.

Some weeks later he returned to Hadley Grange to steal Mrs North's car but was unable to start it. He stole a bag from the car which contained a number of things belonging to Mrs North, including a bank card he used to withdraw £200 from a cash machine at Lloyds Bank in Harlow.

Mr Holborn said that locks were changed at Mrs North's flat the day before her murder after she had been concerned someone was trying to get into the flat several days before.

Patrick Upwood, in mitigation, said Riley had a £250 a week drug habit but now had time to reflect, adding: "Genuine remorse is now part of the make up of a sobering young man. He's certainly free from drugs.

"When he went out he had no intention to kill her."

Teresa on the shortlist for a shock delivery

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MIDWIFE from Harlow has been shortlisted for a national award after helping a mum-of-two through a particularly distressing labour.

Teresa Keene (47), of Upper Park, works at Princess Alexandra Hospital and is one of 10 finalists in the running for an Infacol Baby Bonding Award.

She was nominated by mum Emma Knewstubb for going above and beyond the call of duty during the birth of her first son Sid in August 2008.

"Teresa dropped her Friday night plans and came to help deliver my baby when I unexpectedly went into labour," said Emma (32), of Bury Road, Old Harlow.

"Having planned a water birth, I was devastated when they told me I would have to go into surgery.

"My ordeal didn't stop there because my son was born with the umbilical cord around his neck and I thought that he wouldn't survive.

"Thanks to Teresa, who was with me through my whole labour, I was put at ease. I couldn't have done it without her; her care didn't stop after birth and she organised her rota so she could take care of me until I was discharged." Since the birth Teresa and Emma have stayed in touch via the social networking website Facebook.

Emma added that the positive experience had given her the confidence to have a second child. Baby Wilfred is now five months old.

Teresa, who only found out about the nomination last week, said: "It was very pleasant and surprising to find out Emma had nominated me.

"It's nice to be thanked for something that I like to think I would do for absolutely anybody in my care."

The awards aims to recognise health care professionals who help forge the emotional bond between parent and baby. More than 150 health professionals across the country were nominated for the award.

The winner will be announced next month and will be receive a bursary towards further training.

Run with mum in Race for Life

MORE than 1,600 people have already agreed to take part in this year's Star-backed Cancer Research UK Race for Life in Harlow.

And as the country prepares to celebrate the nation's mums on Mothering Sunday, what better way for the women of Harlow to pledge their support by signing up for the event taking place in the Town Park on Sunday, May 9.

Mums and daughters can spend some quality time together as they walk, jog or run either the 5km or 10km. And the feel-good factor from taking part beats the chocolates and flowers usually given to mums, say organisers.

"Mothers' Day is the perfect opportunity to show your mum how much you care," said Lucy Hynes, Harlow event manager for Race for Life. "By securing places to take part in Race for Life you will be able to cherish time spent fundraising, training and taking part together.

"This year it is going to be full of amazing moments for everyone, from lining up at the start with thousands of other women to reading the inspirational 'back-signs' worn by participants to the fantastic sense of achievement from crossing the finish line.

"Race for Life in Harlow has an unforgettable atmosphere, with local women of all ages, shapes, sizes and fitness abilities coming together to make a positive difference to the lives of people touched by cancer."

Last year 3,129 women walked, jogged or ran the event and raised an incredible £222,366. This year it is hoped that 4,000 women will help hit a fundraising target of £289,000.

To enter, visit the Race for Life website at www.raceforlife.org or call 0871 641 1111.

Charity is a Lotto winner

FAMILY support charity Home-Start Harlow has been awarded a grant of more than £6,000 to recruit and train a team of volunteers.

The money from the Big Lottery Fund will train the new recruits to offer support and practical help to families with at least one child under five who are experiencing difficulties. The volunteers will first have to complete a 40-hour preparation course.

The charity has also been awarded a further £1,200 from the The Co-operative Community Fund. This will enable them to organise three more Stepping Stone support groups this year for mum's suffering from post natal depression or low mood.

The groups are run by two local health visitors with the support of Home-Start.

Ray helps dreams come true

ACTOR Ray Winstone has taken time out of his busy schedule to support a local charity that makes dreams come true for sick youngsters.

The star of Sexy Beast and 44 Inch Chest launched a month of fundraising for The Dream Factory, a charity that arranges once-in-a-lifetime experiences for children and young adults up to 25 years of age who have life threatening conditions or severe disabilities.

The launch took place at Campion Court Hair Design in High Street, Epping.

Mr Winstone, who lives in Roydon, is one of the patrons of The Dream Factory which was started by Avril Mills, of Albany Court, Epping, after she lost her 10-year-old son Oliver to leukaemia.

Labour gears up for its election battle by opening regional HQ

THE Labour Party has moved its regional headquarters to Harlow to bolster MP Bill Rammell's General Election campaign in what is widely regarded as a key marginal constituency.

Mr Rammell was joined by Aileen Davidson, chair of Labour's Regional Board in the East of England, and Richard Howitt, Euro MP for the East of England and a former Harlow councillor, to perform a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new office in Flex Meadow.

Also present were party activists and supporters.

Mr Rammell said: "I'm glad that the regional party are basing themselves in Harlow. As well as the valuable resources they'll provide at this important time, it is a real vote of confidence in the Harlow campaign.

"This election is a straight choice between having a Labour government investing in the future or a Tory government that would put our fragile economic recovery at grave risk. It is in towns like Harlow where that choice will be made and it is up to voters here to help decide the future of our country."

The offices include telephone banks, printing facilities and meeting rooms that will be used for campaigning during the General Election.

Tory hits out at 'malicious' BNP rumours

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

A SENIOR Conservative councillor has rubbished rumours that he is planning to defect to the British National Party following his resignation as chairman of the local party.

Lee Dangerfield, who sits on both Harlow Council and Essex County Council, told the Star he had no intention of switching sides and denied that a rift within the ranks of the Harlow Conservative Party had led to his decision to step down from the post of chairman.

"There is no truth in these malicious rumours whatsoever," he said.

"I have never had any intention of quitting the Conservative Party for the BNP. I don't believe that the BNP should be allowed to exist as a valid political party and I strongly disagree with their politics of fear and hate.

"As for my resignation as chairman of the Harlow Conservative Association, that was purely down to my growing commitments and responsibilities as a county councillor."

Mr Dangerfield sent an email – a copy of which has been leaked to the Star – to local Conservatives to quash the rumours of his defection which appeared to suggest he had fallen out with some of his Tory party colleagues.

"Whilst there may be some that are hoping, can I just say that there is no such luck as I have no intention of going anywhere," he wrote. "These unjustified rumours do not do Robert [Halfon] or the local party any favours this close to the elections."

However, he insisted his comments merely reflected "minor disagreements" between councillors.

"It's exactly the same within any political party," he said. "Over the years there will be minor disagreements between members but I can safely say there is no rift within the Harlow Conservatives."

LEE DANGERFIELD:

"I have never had any intention of quitting the Conservative Party for the BNP"

Hospital to start new clinic for diabetics

A NEW weekly clinic for diabetics experiencing foot problems and other complications caused by the condition is to be held at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The clinic, which starts on March 25, will take place every Thursday alongside the hospital's existing clinics.

Diabetic medicine consultant Dr Ramalingam Bhaskar will oversee the running of the clinic alongside a foot disease specialist.

"By holding this clinic we can spot problems at an early stage and develop treatment plans for individual patients," said Dr Bhaskar.

The service is also being offered to pregnant women who have diabetes or who are at risk of developing it during pregnancy.

WHEN Debbie Cook took part in the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk last year, she fulfilled a promise she made to her husband Dave. Five weeks earlier, Dave died from cancer. It was a disease he had been fighting for nine years and during that time he came to understand and appreciate the work of St Clare. This week, as registration for this year's Star-backed Midnight Walk gets under way, Debbie talks about the importance of the services provided by the hospice and recalls the night when she and hundreds of others raised more than £120,000 for this worthy cause.

IF you had asked me last June why I was standing in Asda's car park about to participate in the St Clare Midnight Walk I would have given you one simple answer. I was doing it for my late husband Dave.

Dave had just passed away while we were on a family holiday in Spain. We all knew he was ill; he had been fighting cancer for the past nine years. For the majority of those years Dave was strong and carried on living his life to the full, bursting with energy and defying all of the doctors' expectations.

Unfortunately, the cancer spread and even Dave's positive attitude couldn't keep it at bay. It slowly began to take its hold.

Dave spent the last 18 months of his life fighting the cancer. It was hard seeing someone I loved so much become weak and lose their spark for living, but he never gave up, he was an inspiration. At times, though, I know he found it hard.

It was suggested to us that Dave visited St Clare Hospice in Hastingwood. Trust me, Dave was not sold on the idea straight away. He was hesitant and had to be encouraged to go along. It's normal to presume you only go to a hospice to die. This happens at St Clare but it offers so much more. It provides a great support system and network for the people fighting a life-threatening illness and their families fighting it with them.

Walking the Midnight Walk, I thought of Dave and felt so much pride. My beautiful, brave husband had put so much energy and passion bringing us all together for a charity he felt so special about Dave enjoyed his time at St Clare. He was able to escape, relax and enjoy the therapies and activities they offered. Talking to people who were ill and going through a similar situation as him made him stay focused and strong. He would always tell me he felt he shouldn't be there as he wasn't as ill as the other patients. He felt like a fraud.

The staff always told him he was helping the other patients by telling them his story and showing them his determination to fight the cancer. St Clare helped Dave stay positive.

Ask anyone who has seen a loved one fight cancer and they will tell you their personality changes. They're scared, the cancer makes them weak and the medication makes them sick and affects their moods.

St Clare Hospice became so important to Dave that he made it his mission to help them. He wanted to raise as much money as possible to help keep the hospice running.

His aim was to sign up all of his friends and family to participate in the Midnight Walk. We joke about it now but we don't think Dave asked any of us to do the Midnight Walk. We were told. Once Dave wrote your name in his book you were committed; you dare not say no. We could all see how important it was to him. Dave signed up friends and family, male and females of all ages. Some people rarely walked one kilometre, let alone 10. He even persuaded three pregnant ladies to join in.

Dave was determined to do the walk himself. He had instructed us all that we were to take turns pushing him in his wheelchair. There were no excuses!

I wish Dave could have been with us when we participated in the Midnight Walk last year. It was unspoken between us all but we all felt that we needed to walk that night for Dave.

I think of Dave often. Sometimes it brings a tear to my eye, other times a smile to my face. Walking the Midnight Walk, I thought of Dave and felt so much pride. My beautiful, brave husband had put so much energy and passion bringing us all together for a charity he felt so special about.

Watching my children, family and friends laughing, reminiscing and talking about him made me feel close to him again. I knew at that point he would stay close in our hearts forever.

Dave's mission has now become mine. I want to raise as much money possible for St Clare Hospice. We're holding a family fun day on June 6 in memory of Dave. Then, in September, to raise more funds, I will be trekking the Great Wall of China with a group of people for St Clare Hospice. I can't wait.

So, ask me again on June 19 this year why am I walking the Midnight Walk. I will tell you the same as I did last year – I'm doing it for my late husband Dave.

We all had so much fun last year that we can't wait to do it again. The number of people who participated took my breath away. The atmosphere was electric. Everyone who did it with me will be there again this year, along with more friends and family. A few of us dressed up last year; this year we all are. If you see a group of people in fancy dress walking past you give us a wave because we'll all be walking for Dave.

St Clare Hospice may have touched your life already or may become special to you in the future. Whether you want to raise money for a great charity, share good times with your friends and family, remember loved ones who have passed away or who are fighting right now or just want to have a fun time – it doesn't matter.

Sign up for the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk. Everyone should do it.

Help us hit this year's target of £140,000

In the past two years the Star-backed Midnight Walk through Harlow has raised a phenomenal £200,000 for St Clare Hospice. For 2010 the organisers have raised the bar even higher by setting a target of £140,000.

Events fundraiser Tracy Meale said: "This year is a very special one for St Clare Hospice as we are celebrating our 20th birthday and providing 20 years of care to the local community. We are looking for 2,000 walkers to take part in our 10km walk round Harlow."

The walk takes place on Saturday, June

19. But even though that is more than three months away, we want you to sign up today. To take part you must be 14 or over. The cost of registration is £15 and you can do so in one of four ways – online, by email, by post or by telephone.

St Clare Hospice provides free-of-charge care for everyone over 18 living with a life-limiting illness such as cancer. It provides physical, social, spiritual and psychological care for hundreds of patients every year and also supports their family and friends, but to do so it must raise around £4,000 every day. Only 30 per cent of its funding coming from the NHS.

That is why the Midnight Walk is so important and why we need as many Star readers to take part.

"We've already had lots of people calling us to ask when they could sign up so I've got a feeling places are going to fill up quickly," said Tracy.

"We are encouraging everyone to wear fancy dress, something pink and funky and have a fun night out."

Selfish drivers fuel road plea

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

CHILDREN'S safety is being put at risk by selfish drivers who fail to stop at a school crossing on a busy road in Harlow.

Lollipop lady Jane Chivral said she and pupils from Potter Street Primary School have to "dodge" cars up to five times a day.

Now concerned mums Michelle Porter and Claire Kimble have set up a protest group on social networking site Facebook calling for action from highways authority Essex County Council.

The group has already attracted more than 200 members.

Mum-of-three Michelle said her son was "inches away from getting run over" recently when a car did not stop.

"It's really worrying, not just for our children but for the residents at the old people's home and people with learning difficulties at Livingstone House," she said.

"They are all afraid to use the road as it's getting dangerous.

"We've been told by the council that we will get some action but they don't know when. Is it going to take a serious injury or death on the road before we get that?"

PROTEST: Mums Michelle Porter and Claire Kimble have started a Facebook group calling for safety measures at a school crossing in Potter Street (photo: HAR0632897)

The group say the problem has been exacerbated since roadworks started on the A414, resulting in more traffic using Potter Street as a rat run.

Mrs Chivral said: "There has been extra traffic coming through Potter Street and my job is getting very, very hard.

"Whereas before a driver would fail to stop once every few months, now it's three a day on average and on one day it was even five. Now mums have had enough."

The group want safety barriers installed close to the crossing to stop cars from driving on the pavement and cameras to help enforce the 20mph speed limit and catch drivers who do not stop at the crossing.

A County Hall spokesman said: "We are aware of this request and are arranging for a safety barrier to be installed.

"We will also be carrying out a speed survey on Potter Street and liaising with Essex Police on speed issues."

Tories play blame game

SIR, Dr Daniel Margetson thinks Labour can't be trusted (Letters, March 4). Judging by his comments I think he must be a doctor of spin rather than anything else.

It is a central plank of the Tory election strategy to try to convince the electorate that the worldwide recession is all Gordon Brown's fault. It's his fault that Iceland and Greece are bankrupt, it's his fault that unemployment in Spain is at record levels and that Germany is slipping back into recession and it's his fault that the US economy is now over 12 trillion dollars in debt. As anyone with half a brain knows, the steps Mr Brown and the Alistair Darling have taken have saved people's savings, jobs and homes. If a bunch of untested old Etonians had been in power the country would have been sunk.

Dr Margetson blames Mr Brown for signing away powers to the EU where in truth far greater powers were given away by signing the Treaty of Rome and the Maastricht Treaty (both signed by previous Tory prime ministers).

He talks of the selling off of gold reserves without mention of the fact that the last Tory government lost £10bn of our gold trying to prop up the pound on Black Wednesday.

The Tories are hoping that the electorate have short memories and forget the 15 per cent interest rates, 3.5 million unemployed, the funding starved NHS and seemingly endless sleaze of the last Tory administration in a desperate attempt to wheel out their golden trough once more.

Maybe Robert Halfon could tear himself away from the lavish spending of Lord Ashcroft's ill-gotten gains (another new shiny leaflet through my door this week) to confirm the accuracy of my comments.

Robert Johnson
Wissants, Harlow

Voters' right to know

SIR, In a letter to the Star last year, Robert Halfon emphasised the need for transparency in financial matters. With the latest revelations about Lord Ashcroft, can we again ask him to reveal his

Who chose these chosen few?

SIR, The failure of MPs to change the electoral system which gave us lawmakers who, whilst prosecuting benefit "cheats" trying to cope on incomes less than that of their own expenses, means in the coming election we will have very little choice.

Had primaries been introduced we could all have been involved in selecting the candidates we wanted to choose from.

Instead we are faced with a sitting MP who did nothing to change the system, voted almost entirely with the Government despite the interests of the people he was elected to represent, allowed the rich to get richer and the poor poorer, and took ministerial appointment committing himself to support two wars which have done this country more harm even than the recession.

As an alternative we are faced with Conservative candidate Robert Halfon who, whilst he might well empathise with the disabled, has made no such commitment to redistributing income which is essential if we are to have a fairer society.

He has been repeatedly asked in this paper by Ron Bill to disclose the source of his income which has allowed him to spend so much time and money preparing for his candidature. He has failed to do so and so he cannot complain that others now fill in the gaps.

It appears that he and the local party have been receiving considerable sums of money from Lord Ashcroft, a multi-millionaire who has just revealed that whilst exercising power and influence as a member of the House of Lords, he is non-domiciled in England and therefore does not pay full tax on his income like you and I.

Mr Halfon's personal source of income appears to come from the political advice he gives to the Conservative Friends of Israel, a pressure group which was recently the subject of a critical expose on Channel Four. I suspect few people in Harlow would consider support of such a foreign government a recommendation, still less a priority for those suffering from the recession, unemployment and the cuts which both parties threaten to impose.

And what of the Liberal Democrats who appear policywise to be willing to make some of the changes to the voting system and to our basic society, which are crucially necessary? According to the national Lib Dem website our Parliamentary candidate is Dave White, but he appears to be an invisible man. How many people were involved in the choice of these three wise men from whom we must choose, I wonder. Perhaps they will inform us.

Revd Dennis Nadin

financial backers?

Surely as voters we are entitled to know this. Call me old-fashioned but I believe the people making make our laws – the Lords and the Commons – should all live and pay taxes in the U.K.

Ron Bill
Upper Park, Harlow

Peer's unfair influence

SIR, Is it not outrageous that Lord Ashcroft, who is seeking by the expenditure of millions of pounds on prospective Conservative Parliamentary candidates in marginal constituencies like Harlow to influence the outcome of the next General Election, does not pay British taxes on his huge wealth by the device of claiming to be a non-dom?

He has, in addition, become a peer of the realm – and, therefore, part of the law-making process – by making promises which he failed to keep.

One of the features of countries in financial trouble at the present time is that a large number of wealthy people totally evade their tax liabilities.

What faith can anyone put in the judgment of David Cameron and George Osborne to manage Britain's finances when leading Conservatives have clearly turned a blind eye to this individual's tax status for party political advantage?

In past centuries the call went up: "No taxation without representation". To Lord Ashcroft we should say: "No representation without taxation". Voters in Harlow and other marginals need to ask themselves whether they are content to be persuaded to vote Conservative by a billionaire who avoids paying his taxes in Britain.

Stan Newens
Park Hill, Harlow

It's the same old story

SIR, In reply to councillor Jean Clark (Letters, March 4), it's the same old story – an election round the corner and everyone criticising everyone else.

I have only lived in Harlow for a few years so I don't know the full political history. However, I remember not long after we moved here we received a questionnaire from the Labour Party regarding rates increases for the following year.

The document had three options: pay the same rates and get a reduced service, pay slightly more and receive the same service or pay a greater amount to receive a better service.

Catch 22 as I saw it. And pot, kettle and black comes to mind.

Beware pensioner power

SIR, On reading the national papers it appears that we have a General Election looming in the near future. How did I come to this conclusion? Well suddenly both of the main political parties have discovered that in this country there are over 11 million pensioners out there.

For the past twenty years we have only been recognised when they want our vote and we are expected to believe all the rubbish being spoken to us by the party leaders.

In the 1980s our link to earnings was taken away by the government of the day. If it hadn't been, the state pension would now be £160 a week and now one is saying they will bring it back in 2015, the other in 2016. At the rate the pension is now, we will get about £4 extra and the way the cost of living is going we will be lucky to survive.

And then of course they are both telling us that the NHS is safe in their hands. The private finance initiative brought in by a Conservative government allowed private companies to build hospitals and then lease them out to the NHS trusts.

One of the first happened in Edinburgh where a large hospital in the centre of the city was sold off to a private company, which built a smaller hospital at the edge of the city. The cost to build was £80m, the hospital was given a lease for 30 years at a cost of £30m a year and the company turned the old hospital into offices.

Figures released last month reveal that the NHS will be billed the sum of £63bn for PFI hospitals that are worth just £11bn.

So I say to all these smart politicians, beware. Pensioners have the vote and we use it.

Allow us to swim for free

SIR, During a recent visit to Harlow's new Leisurezone by some of our councillors, I wonder if they have given any thought to the fact that, despite the Government's wish to make exercise and swimming available to pensioners free, they apparently have chosen to ignore this sound idea and will, in fact, be charging OAPs for this service.

What makes their decision even harder to swallow is that pensioners can exercise and swim free at venues in Epping, Loughton, Waltham Abbey, Sawbridgeworth and Ongar.

Perhaps there is a reason for our council not to want the elderly to keep fit and, thus, not be burdensome to the NHS and the rest of society, but I for one cannot think of one.

Bob Stannard
Bellfield Gardens, Harlow

Myths about wheelie bins

SIR, My "gaffe" in selecting the wrong recipient for one of 4,173 e-mails I sent in the last year, reported in the Star on February 18, has brought the anti-wheelie bin lobby to the surface again.

Andrew Fraser (Letters, February 25) resurrects the chestnut of the wheelie-bin-party-that-never-was. Most people would think thanking staff for hard work is good management. I've thanked them again for battling recent weather to keep collections going while other councils abandoned theirs.

He uses words like ridiculous and debacle to describe the scheme. What would his solution be? He even cites the MPs expenses scandal in aid of his arguments. In fact, recent figures show our new waste service is working excellently.

He repeats the myth, debunked months ago, that decomposing waste will cause odours once summer arrives. Everyone knows by now there should be no decomposing waste in either his residual or recycling bins because food waste is collected weekly via the sealable food waste bin, and highly successful this has been.

Also, we are the only council in the country with a separate weekly nappy collection, have just launched a partnership with local charity ECCO for kerbside collections of batteries, clothing and electrical goods and are about to add to residents' choices with kerbside garden waste and same-day bulk waste collections.

Defeated Labour candidate Norman Knight also wades in (Letters, February 25). He based his election campaign on falsehoods and scare stories about wheelie bins without even telling his own party chairman, who supported the scheme while she was their representative on the council's waste working party. He criticises the Conservatives' zero per cent council tax rise. To old Socialists like Norman, lower taxes are a sin. I am sure he would like to go back just five years to when his party had for decades charged Harlow's residents the highest council tax in the country. They also squandered all £20m of our reserves – residents' money – before handing Conservatives the job of putting Harlow back in the black. Labour now has just six councillors are not even the official opposition.

Councillor Tony Hall
Civic Centre, Harlow

Young athletes betrayed

SIR, On March 24, 1999 I had a letter published in the local press stating that the athletic track was deliberately being run down and that I was very concerned that the young athletes were being denied the chance to become another Sally Gunnell or Roger Black.

On March 31 1999 Bill Rammell wrote to me stating that as a sports enthusiast himself he felt for me. We corresponded for eight years until it was obvious from his letters that he was not concerned about the young athletes at all.

The people who have told me Harlow Athletic Club was relocated at Mark Hall School have been misinformed as it was not. There is an athletics track at Mark Hall but no separate clubhouse, no covered stands and no commentary box which should have been there if Harlow Athletic Club were relocated.

Harlow Athletic Club was the successful club in Harlow, with several athletes representing England and several more representing Essex. They were only one league below the national league. Why didn't the executive board on the Harlow & District Sports Trust look after the interests of its clubs as they promised to do when they took office?

They have betrayed the sporting youth of this club.

Richard Glover
Windmill Fields, Harlow

A risk not worth taking

SIR, Bill Rammell has declared support for the Health Protection Agency to take over part of the GSK building when vacated.

The HPA provides a broad range of specialist services covering infectious and lethal diseases (including anthrax, haemorrhagic fever, sabia and pox viruses) and undertakes research in the areas of chemical, poison, biological, radiological and nuclear issues.

In June 2008 it was reported that the HPA's Porton Down facility, which is expected to transfer to Harlow, was declared so rundown that the labs were too old for safety.

We all remember the devastating escape of foot-and-mouth virus from the animal health laboratory at Pirbright in Surrey. In 1994 the deadly sabia virus, which includes symptoms of uncontrolled bleeding in virtually every organ including the eyes and skin, escaped from a US laboratory.

Albeit that the origin of swine flu has not yet been conclusively determined, the Virology Journal puts forward the possibility that laboratory errors may have been involved.

Coupled with the potential for laboratory and transport hazards is the risk that this type of industry could be targeted by activists and terrorists. Mr Rammell's support for this organisation is ironic when you consider that one of his responsibilities is counter-terrorism. Yet he is prepared to lure this threat to the very town and constituents he has promised to serve.

The three main political parties have indicated that they would welcome the HPA move, focusing instead on guaranteeing safety. Yet codes of practice have in the past failed to provide 100 per cent safety.

I suggest anyone who does not want to risk themselves or their children becoming Harlow lab rats in the future should object to the transfer of the HPA (or any other high-risk industry) moving to or near the town by writing to Mr Rammell.

Anger at 'vile house' mum

SIR, I read with anger the story about a mother of four complaining about living in a two-bedroom cramped council house (Star, March 4).

She has lived in this house for eight years in these terrible conditions which have caused her children to have breathing problems and asthma. It makes me very angry, not the way she has to live but the fact she has chosen to have three more children whilst living in these conditions and subjecting them to such living conditions.

Why go on to have more children when you live in such "vile" surroundings? She is a very selfish woman and I feel very sad for her children.

A prehistoric monster

MANY people are afraid of snakes and now a new discovery has revealed that even mighty dinosaurs may have been scared of them.

Scientists have unearthed an almost complete fossilised skeleton of a 3.5m prehistoric snake that preyed on baby dinosaurs, caught in the act of preparing to eat its last meal almost 67 million years ago.

Its body was found in a preserved dinosaur nest, coiled around a recently hatched and crushed egg. Next to it was an 18-inch fossil of a baby titanosaur, a plant-eating giant that could have weighed up to 100 tonnes as a fully-grown adult.

The remains of two other snakes were also found next to eggs at the same archaeological dig site in western India.

The snake, named Sanajeh Indicus, did not have the wide-open jaws common in modern snakes such as pythons and boa constrictors and would probably not have been able to swallow a whole dinosaur egg . . . although baby dinosaurs would have been just the right size for a snack!

Dr Jason Head from the University of Toronto in Canada, said: "Living primitive snakes are small animals whose diet is limited by their jaw size, but the evolution of a large body size in Sanajeh would have allowed it to eat a wide range of prey, including dinosaur hatchlings."

Give a child a home, a foster home.

Foster Carers

As a successful, independent fostering agency, Brighter Futures works with children and young people who, for whatever reason, cannot be with their own families.

Our primary aim is to provide foster care of the highest quality – and this is where you come in, whatever your ethnic, cultural or religious background. You'll also be considered if you're single, or living with a partner, of either gender. You will need to provide a supportive and stable environment for one or even more of our youngsters. After all, every child deserves a chance of a better life too, don't they?

If you can use your own life experiences and skills to become a Foster Carer in your local area, we can offer you a minimum weekly fee of £375, thorough training, 24 hour support and paid respite.

We're making a difference to a child's life, you can too.

Fully booked!

SCHOOLS throughout Harlow have been turning their attention to literature and choosing their favourite fictional characters to celebrate World Book Day.

Youngsters at Schoolgate Nursery, in Carters Mead, dressed up as their storybook heroes and acted out parts from their favourite stories.

They also created wall displays of their chosen tales, while staff joined in the fun by dressing up as the cast of Cinderella.

Manager Anita Parish said: "It was an excellent week and the children really enjoyed themselves. It gave us the chance to promote their communication, literacy and numeracy skills."

Over at Jerounds Junior, staff and children also dressed up, many of them inspired by the release of the new film version of Alice in Wonderland.

There was a special parade before prizes of medals and books were awarded to 16 pupils with the most impressive costumes.

Office manager Steph Mills said: "It was great to see the staff and children dressed up and we were really impressed with the outfits."

"Pupils were taking a closer look at books in the build-up to World Book Day. We hope they will be even more interested in books as a result of this exciting day."

At Abbotsweld Primary, in Partridge Road, pupils paid a pound to dress up as characters from their favourite stories which led to the unusual sight of Snow White sitting side-by-side with a ferocious dinosaur!

Children's author Linda Newbery visited the school and talked about books with pupils, while illustrator Charlotte Firmin helped youngsters put pictures to their own story and storyteller Lizzie Lewendon created a tale with the children.

"The children always love it when people come in from outside to help them," said deputy headteacher Teresa Phillips. "A lot of the activities we can also do with them but when professionals come in it adds real excitement."

Dust off those tartan scarves, we're Rolling back the years

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MEMORIES of Rollermania will come flooding back for many fans of the 1970s chart-toppers when Les McKeown rolls into town on Saturday.

And it's probably a fair bet his return to Harlow will be a more sedate affair than the first time he performed here.

It was back in July 1974 when the up-and-coming Rollers Shang-a-Lang'ed their way round a stage at Harlow Town Park – attracting a crowd of 20,000 people.

Not all went to plan, though, as newspapers of the day reported that a "screaming, hysterical mob" of teenyboppers turned the concert into a nightmare.

The Harlow Gazette-Citizen proclaimed in a front page comment: "Harlow should sigh with relief. It nearly had a major disaster."

When the Rollers came on stage there was a massive crowd surge which broke a crash barrier. Many youngsters were pushed into the artificial pond in front of the stage.

Ambulances took 11 children to Princess Alexandra Hospital while 30 more received treatment at the scene.

Thankfully none were badly hurt but many had to be sent home.

At one point the police had told the event's organisers, Harlow Council, to stop the concert but it was decided that there may have been even more trouble if the event was called off.

It was reported that a St John Ambulance officer said: "The crowd atmosphere changed noticeably around 9pm when the advertised star group failed to appear."

"During the next half-hour the youngsters grew more disappointed and restless and there was growing signs of mass hysteria."

Some months after the show a letter was sent from the group's management to the organisers apologising for their lateness.

But it seems for the vast majority of the crowd it was a memorable experience for all the right reasons, so much so that it appears some found it difficult to say Bye Bye Baby to the quintet. A 3,700-name petition was collected asking them back to the town.

That petition now resides at the Museum of Harlow, along with the letter from the management.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Royal visitors

OBSCURE publications from days gone by can often throw up interesting nuggets of information hitherto forgotten.

And when Harlow resident Phyllis Steingold saw our coverage of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh's visit to Harlow in 1957, it reminded her of one such publication.

Phyllis, who attended Springfield Green School in Chelmsford, was given a booklet Royalty in Essex – which describes itself as "a souvenir book for Essex children presented by the county council on the occasion of coronation of her majesty Queen Elizabeth II on June 2, 1953."

It covers much of the long association the Royal Family has had with the county and includes this gem taken during a visit to Harlow in November 1952. It shows him accepting toys for the Duke of Cornwall and Princess Anne from Anne Wells on behalf of the town.

● We have been asked to point out that Jan Hiller, who was head of art at Mark Hall School, is a Mr and not a Mrs as incorrectly reported in last week's Nostalgia.

Foundation stone is laid

The foundation stone for the new Great Parndon Community Centre, in Abercrombie Way, was laid by the community association's first warden John Daley. The £386,000 centre is due to open in October 1985.

Warning over forged notes

Police are warning shopkeepers to be on the lookout for forged £20 notes after a fresh batch were discovered this week in the Harvey Centre.

Library obstacle course anger

Disabled groups in the town are angry about a new security system in Harlow Library which they have described as an obstacle course. The system, consisting of metal bars with automatic gates, was slated as a "ridiculous warren".

Chairman praises 'Mr Harlow'

HARLOW will be the Conservatives' key battleground in the forthcoming General Election, according to party chairman Eric Pickles.

The Brentwood and Ongar MP described the town as "the one that got away" when he visited Harlow on Tuesday to support local Tory candidate Robert Halfon's election campaign.

"Harlow is where the battlelines will be drawn by the Conservatives," he told the Star. "In terms of the key marginal seats, this is our number one target."

"This is the one that got away, the one that the Conservatives feel a sense of guilt for letting slip through our fingers the last time round."

"We couldn't have a

better candidate than Robert, he is Mr Harlow. He has worked tirelessly for the benefit of the town's residents and I know he will make a tremendous MP."

Mr Pickles dismissed reports that Labour and the Tories were almost neck and neck in the race to secure marginal seats across the country.

"The reports showed that we are six per cent ahead of where we were five years ago and I have every faith the people of Harlow realise now is the time for change."

Study into Tube line town link

By CHRIS MOSS

Lisa and Lorraine would like to say thank you to all those family and friends who joined them to say goodbye to their Mum. It was wonderful to see so many people and have the chance to share some lovely memories.

THE wheels are slowly turning on a proposed extension of the Central Line to provide a direct Underground link between Harlow and London.

A feasibility study is currently being carried out on behalf of Harlow Renaissance into the possibility of constructing a Tube station close to the M11 roundabout at Hastingwood.

If the study determines sound business and economic cases for the extension of the Central Line from its current terminus at Epping, a more in-depth report could be commissioned as a result.

However, any extension of the underground line could not be carried out without the co-operation of Transport for London – and the Star understands the organisation has no involvement whatsoever with the feasibility study at this stage.

Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson, said: "Extending the Central Line is an idea that has a lot of popular support in Harlow."

"The study has been commissioned to find out whether or not it's a realistic proposal. Harlow Renaissance has commissioned the work as part of their wider remit to give the council strategic advice on possibilities for the future regeneration and growth of the town."

A Harlow Renaissance spokesman added: "The study will explore a possible route for the Central Line extension to Harlow and will build up the information required to assess, in very broad terms, the economic and business cases for such an extension."

"The outcomes of the study will be used to determine whether there is a realistic possibility and sound case for the Central Line extension that warrants the funding of a further, more detailed explorative work."

Town centre blitz on chewing gum

By ANDY WILLIAMS
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

SHOPPERS will no longer have to dodge piles of discarded chewing gum in Harlow town centre after the area was targeted for an extreme clean.

Gum has been removed from pavements to make the town centre more attractive to shoppers and visitors.

Low-pressure steam equipment has lifted away discarded gum from pavements in Broad Walk, The Rows, Market Square, West Square and Terminus Street.

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said: "This operation will help to make the town centre look smarter and more attractive to visitors."

Gum Clear, a company which specialises in the removal of chewing gum, started the work last Monday.

Usually this kind of clean-up operation costs in excess of £20,000 but the project has been covered by part of a £52,000 Government grant to improve business in town centres during the recession.

"We ask that people think about how and where they discard their gum and remind them that dropping gum is a littering offence," said Mr Hall. "Harlow Council will prosecute anyone caught littering in this manner."

Miner production ends up as a major triumph

REVIEW

A Version of Billy Elliot
Razed Roof, Harlow Playhouse

A STRONG sense of community pervades Billy Elliot, the story of a lad from a strike-bound mining village who overcomes all obstacles to achieve his dream of a career in ballet.

And a strong sense of community was the overwhelming impression generated by the Razed Roof cast, whose enthusiastic and moving production ensured a thought-provoking experience.

An inclusive performing arts group for people with and without disabilities and learning difficulties, Razed Roof rehearses every Thursday at the Playhouse and, incredibly, put this thoroughly entertaining production together in just five weeks.

It was adapted from the successful West End musical, produced as part of Billy Youth Theatre and approved by playwright Lee Hall. Thanks to the skilful direction of artistic director Annette Lidster and her team of supporters, it told the tale with verve and flair.

Razed Roof consists of adults with specific learning difficulties and disabilities plus performing arts students from Hoddesdon's Sheredes School. The group operates a system whereby a main performer with learning difficulties is always supported throughout a performance by a student, and for this production the central role of Billy was taken by the engaging Marc Belsey – resplendent in his blond Mohican hairdo – supported by Jacob Bessant. There were some lively and inspired individual performances, but it was in the ensemble scenes that the cast really came into their own. Whether portraying miners (descending into the pit, digging for coal or on the picket line), a boxing session or a ballet class, the cast united to create a compelling atmosphere.

The picket line clashes with the police brought back bitter memories of the 1984-85 National Union of Mineworkers' strike, and NUM banners created by students at a Harlow Children's Support Centre made a stunning backdrop for the action.

As I said, a strong sense of community dominated this production and it was fitting that the Thursday evening performance saw the presentation of community awards to three cast members.

Harlow councillor Jean Clark presented Jack Petchey Foundation Achievement Awards to Leanne Watford (Grandma) and Ashley Felstead (Billy's friend Michael) and the Mike Adamou Award to Michael Shore.

Jacko show is a thriller

FANS of the late, great King of Pop can moonwalk down to The Playhouse on Tuesday for a thriller of a Michael Jackson tribute show.

Put together by the theatre's acclaimed resident dance school Hip Hop Pop and featuring the remarkable Robin Parsons as Jacko himself, the bombastic Jackson Live show wowed Harlow audiences twice last year before embarking on a hugely successful regional tour.

With music from classic albums including Thriller, Bad, Dangerous and Off The Wall, the high-energy song and dance spectacular also features professionally choreographed dance routines from talented HHP students.

Producer and choreographer Jenny Bater told the Star: "The show has a fantastic vibe to it and such energy that it will have everyone jiggling in their seats."

"The success of Jackson Live as a touring show this year has been amazing so to perform back in our local town is always a love of ours and we hope to see local people coming and enjoying the show as much as we do."

The show runs at The Playhouse for two nights – Tuesday and Wednesday – with performances starting at 7.30pm. Tickets costing £13 can be purchased from The Playhouse box office on (01279) 431945.

WHEN American and British forces withdraw completely from Iraq – a military strategy which seems unthinkable seven years into the campaign – the lasting legacy won't be peace and democracy.

It will be a deep-rooted suspicion that the infamous weapons of mass destruction, the supposed justification for the invasion, never existed.

Award-winning British filmmaker Paul Greengrass and actor Matt Damon, the driving forces behind The Bourne Supremacy and The Bourne Ultimatum, posit one scenario in this riveting thriller.

Green Zone is a breathless two hours of adrenaline-pumping action and political manoeuvring that places as much emphasis on emotionally charged dialogue as set pieces.

The film opens with a deafening

GREEN ZONE certificate 15 1h54m

bang on March 19, 2003 in Baghdad as Saddam Hussein's trusted general, Al Rawi (Yigal Naor) flees his headquarters in the midst of an Allied blitzkrieg. Four weeks later, US Army warrant officer Roy Miller (Damon) and his team career through the war-torn capital on the hunt for WMDs. Yet again, they draw a blank and Miller voices his frustrations, suspecting bogus intelligence.

A tip-off from disgruntled local Freddy (Khalid Abdalla) leads Miller and his crew to a meeting of Saddam's high-ranking advisors including Al Rawi. The general escapes but another man is apprehended and Miller uses Freddy as a translator to interrogate the suspect about a notebook in his possession.

Returning to base, Miller bypasses scheming Pentagon official Clark Poundstone (Greg Kinnear) and his minion Major Briggs (Jason Isaacs) to deliver the book to local CIA chief Gordon Brown (Brendan Gleeson), who asks for discretion.

Green Zone is distinguished by tour-de-force direction, galloping through the streets of Baghdad with handheld cameras so we remain uncomfortably close to Miller as he risks his life for a country he was entrusted to tear apart.

Damon delivers a passionate performance as a soldier with a conscience who doesn't understand the full extent of the conspiracy, while Kinnear and Gleeson relish their roles as duplicitous political pawns and Abdalla curries sympathy as the Iraqi interloper enraged by the arrogance of his so-called American saviours.

SHUTTER ISLAND certificate 15, 2h18m

US Marshal Teddy Daniels (Leonardo DiCaprio) and his new partner Chuck Aule (Mark Ruffalo) make the stomach-churning journey by water to Ashecliffe Hospital for the Criminally Insane with a hurricane closing in on the island.

Dr Cawley (Sir Ben Kingsley), who oversees the facility, reveals that one of the patients has escaped and no one has any idea how she could have disappeared without trace.

THE BOUNTY HUNTER certificate 12A 1h50m

When Milo Boyd (Gerard Butler) divorced his then wife Nicole (Aniston), he thought that was the end of the misery. But all those old emotional wounds are about to be re-opened in Andy Tennant's fast-paced romantic comedy.

Now working as a bounty hunter, Milo is hired to track down his reporter ex-wife who has jumped bail. The assignment seems simple enough except that Nicole is on a high-profile story – a murder cover-up – and she gives him the slip.

When he finally catches up with Nicole, Milo finds himself on the run for his life too and the pair of former lovebirds have to put their many and obvious differences to one side as they attempt to avoid their pursuers.

I LOVE YOU PHILLIP MORRIS certificate 15 1h35m

Police officer Stephen Russell (Jim Carrey) is happily married, with a beautiful wife and young daughter. However, he has a secret: he is gay and is engaging in anonymous sex to fuel his needs.

When he can no longer keep the secret, Stephen comes out to his wife and moves to Florida with boyfriend but eventually ends up in prison where he meets Phillip Morris (Ewan McGregor).

The attraction is instant and Stephen schemes to become his lover's cellmate.

HACHI: A DOG'S TALE certificate U 1h33m

Richard Gere and Joan Allen star in a retelling of the true story of a loyal Japanese Akita who, back in the 1920s, waited each day for his professor master at Shibuya station in Tokyo for 10 years after the professor had passed away.

>>>still on screen

>>>ALICE IN WONDERLAND (3D & 2D) Based on a screenplay by Linda Woolverton, director Tim Burton's descent down the rabbit hole is a characteristically eye-catching and quixotic journey of self-discovery in a world where anything can, and probably will, happen. Mia Wasikowska plays a 19-year-old Alice, with Johnny Depp as her old friend, the Mad Hatter. The visuals are stunning, but the characterisation is weak, and Depp's turn as the Mad Hatter is one bout of lunacy too far.

>>>THE LOVELY BONES Cutting back and forth between the real world and a heavenly limbo, The Lovely Bones details the efforts of a murdered 14-year-old schoolgirl (Saoirse Ronan) who helps her grieving father (Mark Wahlberg) apprehend her killer from beyond the grave.

>>>THE CRAZIES Breck Eisner's suspenseful yarn pays homage to the 1968 zombie classic Night Of The Living Dead with experimental bio-weapons as the contemporary trigger for all of the mayhem in a cosy Midwestern town where the population is rapidly falling in a bloodthirsty apocalypse.

>>>PERCY JACKSON & THE LIGHTNING THIEF Chris Columbus directs the big-screen big budget version of the first of five books by Rick Riordan. High school student Percy Jackson (Logan Lerman) embarks on a quest to the underworld when he discovers he is the son of Poseidon (Kevin McKidd). Columbus doesn't let the effects overwhelm the storytelling, although it's more of a stretch than a squeeze to fill the rollicking two hours.

>>>THE PRINCESS AND THE FROG Disney breaks with tradition and casts its first ever African-American princess in this enchanting reworking of the Grimm brothers' fairytale, set in New Orleans around the time of the First World War. Tiana (voiced by Anika Noni Rose) is turned into a frog after kissing a smooth-talking amphibian, and has to embark on a perilous quest to get herself turned back into a human.

>>>kids' club

>>>ALIENS IN THE ATTIC

Adventure/comedy about children on a family holiday who must fight off an attack by knee-high alien invaders with world-destroying ambitions. At the same time, the youngsters work hard to keep their parents in the dark about the battle upstairs.

>>>UP (2D) Airborne adventure about a cranky old man who ties thousands of balloons to his home to fulfill his lifelong dream of seeing the wilds of South America and an excitable young boy who accompanies him as a stowaway.

>>>PLANET 51 The computer-animated comedy unfolds on a world far from ours where little green men, women and child live in domestic bliss. But the crash-landing of a dim-witted American astronaut (voiced by Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson) causes chaos.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
If you are someone with a tendency to keep things tightly close to your chest, this can be a challenging week. It can seem to you that people are a little too keen to pry into your private affairs. Someone may also let you down, letting something slip that you have told them in confidence. Steer clear of all intrigue and gossip - a time to be discreet, therefore. Call now for more astral advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
The Sun and Mercury spin tightly together and then meet with the unpredictable Uranus. Be open to new approaches around diet and exercise. If you get offered a job in an area you know little about, don't instantly dismiss it. Getting a good balance between being productive and resting is going to be very important. Look to your time management. Call your special prediction line for more...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
If you're someone who likes plans to be solid - this is a week when someone's unreliability can frustrate you. This may see them have a last minute change of mind, or drop out of a group expedition, which means someone else has to be found at the last minute, or more money needs to be paid by the remaining people. Be prepared and stay watchful Taurus. Call for more astral advice...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Are you more set in your ways than you're prepared to admit? If so this can be an excellent week to indulge in some derring-do. In fact, you could find yourself yawning if you push yourself to comply too readily with life's mundane features. Dancing, laughing and flirting, well...you get my drift. Give yourself permission to let go and be more liberated. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
This week can work in a number of ways. You might find yourself yearning for a change of scene work wise, or after months of fruitless searching, finally snaffle yourself a new role, but in quite a sudden way. Yet a hint of rebellion is in the air. Rules may seem to be broken, not necessarily by you but by someone you have to deal with. This could be disruptive. Call me now for more news...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Any restlessness you've been experiencing at home or in close emotional ties can peak. Then again, you may have to adapt to deal with someone close to you who is unsettled, which in turn affects your peace of mind. Perhaps you need to accept that certain elements of your world are in a state of flux. If you fight all this, it may prove counter productive. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
You can feel quite receptive to opening up your situation, but this may mean travelling further afield, perhaps for work, learning a foreign language or becoming more comfortable with different cultures or even religions. However, events can move quickly. Information received may not be what you expect. Yet such knowledge can influence your moves. Call your prediction line for more news...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Don't sit on your hands. Make the most of the stars' influence, as this is a fine time to be busy, witty and active. If you naturally like a lot of hustle and bustle, you really will be in your element. Your boredom threshold will however be low, so if there is not a lot going on, you could get a bit crabby. Because of this you need to be as proactive as possible. Call me now for more news and advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
You are going to find yourself keen to get to the bottom of any outstanding issues, especially by the week's end. You need to know where you stand, but and some-one with ideas equally you could change your mind several times this week. A romantic involvement could be turbulent, being off, on and then off again. Business affairs can also prove to be unpredictable. Call now for your love scope in full...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
There is an erratic side of being an Aquarian that can see you are changeable. However, this makes for you end, being a lively companion, where you stand, but and some-one with ideas equally you could change your mind several times this week. A romantic involvement could be turbulent, being off, on and then off again. Business affairs can also prove to be unpredictable. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
The person you're most attracted to this week, may not, strangely be who is physically or a person you find particularly easy to get along with. However, just because there is something about them which is a turn-off doesn't mean that there can't be a more elemental fascination, in an on-going relationship there can also be a clash, but it may help to clear the air between you. Call now for your love scope in full...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
If you've been putting off with a situation which is physically or psychologically constraining, few times will ever give you license to break free, as now, is something about them And even if your natural inclination is not to rock the boat, sometimes we have to accept that change is a necessary part of personal development - even if it means giving up the air between you. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Three-bed ground floor flat in Old Harlow

Home of the week

LOCATION: Old Road, Old Harlow

CATEGORY: Three-bed ground floor flat

ADDITIONAL: Useable cellar, two reception rooms, communal garden

PRICE: £235,000

AGENT: Howick & Brooker Partnership,
Gothic House, High Street, Old Harlow.
Telephone (01279) 418888

THIS character ground floor flat is in a fascinating Victorian house thought to date back to the 1870s when it was built as a wedding present to the Watlington family. Sympathetically converted into apartments in the 1960s, it is located to the northern part of the old town close to the River Stort and is just a short stroll from Harlow Mill station and a mile or so walk from the local amenities of Old Harlow.

The property is laid out over the ground floor. The accommodation comprises an entrance hall, lounge (16'8 x 11'3), dining room (14'9 x 12'6), kitchen (11'3 x 5'4), bathroom and three bedrooms (16'8 x 11'7, 12'5 x 10'7, 13'9 x 7'2).

The property also benefits from a pretty communal garden and a useable cellar.

HARLOW

You'll sell my home?
and pay my mortgage?

Yes.

We could find your next home. And pay for it for a whole year.

At Intercounty we do estate agency differently. So differently that we could pay your mortgage for 12 months. Buy or sell your home with us before the end of June and you'll have a chance of winning this unique prize*. This is not just another competition. But we're not just another estate agent. Come in and visit us at our office or find out more online at:

www.intercounty.co.uk
Call us on 01279 639666

Intercounty

NOT ANOTHER ESTATE AGENCY.

*For full terms and conditions please visit www.intercounty.co.uk. To be eligible for the free prize draw, you need to buy or sell your house through Intercounty which must have legally completed by 30 June 2010. If you are the prize winner, we will pay up to a maximum value of £1000 per month for a 12 month period towards your mortgage re-payments.

Change your fortunes at the HBC

HARLOW Business Centre provides the platform for companies to grow from strength to strength and AC Engineering & Fabrication Ltd has done just that.

With over 35 years experience in plant and machinery repairs, installations and rebuilds, they set out to offer a wide range of engineering and advisory services.

Owners Bob Hewitt and Tom Gregory take great pride in their business and say relocating to Harlow Business Centre has changed their fortunes as they welcome clients to their 1,000 sqft workshop within the centre. For friendly advice on machinery repairs, breakdowns and rebuilds, preventive maintenance, process improvement engineering or health and safety issues, call in or telephone (01279) 441200.

AC Engineering & Fabrication Ltd took advantage of the easy in/easy out licence agreements on offer at Harlow Business Centre. If you are looking for an office or a workshop – or both – the centre provides workspace ranging from 240-2,000sqft and also provides CCTV and security as well as taking responsibility for the maintenance and insurance of the premises.

Your refuse will be collected and you will have 24/7 access to your unit. There is also free designated and visitor parking and the on-site management is happy to oversee deliveries for you and, if required, will provide admin support for your business.

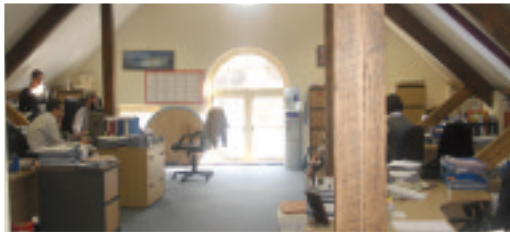

If you are looking to change your fortunes and would like affordable business premises within a friendly, professional and secure centre, please call our manager on (01279) 429644 or visit www.harlowbusinesscentre.co.uk.

You will be amazed at the value for money at Harlow Business Centre.

Skoda estate is big on space

Skoda's Superb does boots better than almost any other car. Steve Walker checks out the estate version.

THERE aren't many models that would count their luggage bay as a standout feature.

Plenty have big boots that are worth a mention and might even swing the buying decisions of those with a lot of possessions to carry, but very few would actively divert interested parties around to the back as an opening gambit.

The Skoda Superb would. It's not that the car is deficient in other areas, but in saloon guise it does have a rear end of which it can be proud. Capable of opening like a hatchback or a saloon, the car brings real extra practicality to the party and provides a valuable means of differentiation in a crowded marketplace.

All of which might give the Skoda Superb estate a bit of a problem. This model is exactly the same as the standard Superb but without the party-piece boot. Right from the outset there was a lot to like about the Skoda Superb (we're talking about the modern versions here, not the 1930s original). While the idea of an executive car with a Skoda badge would have some image-conscious individuals running a mile in their Porsche Design driving shoes, others warmed to this big, roomy car with a small price tag.

In first generation form launched in 2002, the Superb was little more than a first generation Volkswagen Passat with an extended wheelbase. There was no shame in that, but with the second generation model Skoda took steps to make the Superb feel like a car in its own right.

There are still the usual Volkswagen Group engines and parts in evidence but the pricing is distinctly Skoda and, in estate guise, the Superb looks like even more car for the money.

Skoda might be middle ranking star in the automotive firmament but it's backed by the supernova that is the Volkswagen Group and that's where the Superb Estate gets its reassuringly modern engine range. It's the same line-up as in the Superb saloon, starting with the 124bhp 1.4-litre TSI unit which is followed by the 160bhp 1.8 TSI. Both of these are turbocharged petrol engines but the range-topper is a normally-aspirated 3.6-litre V6 with four-wheel-drive and the DSG twin clutch gearbox fitted as standard. Given that the appeal of the Superb is centred around low costs and value, the diesel engines should be popular. The 105bhp 1.9-litre TDI is looking a little elderly these days but it's still a solid entry-level unit. A much better bet is one of the 2.0-litre TDI common-rail diesels which come in 140bhp and 170bhp guises. With the 170bhp engine, the Superb estate can lurch to 60mph in 8.9s and hit an autobahn-friendly 136mph top speed.

The Estate version of the Superb might not have the clever tailgate arrangement of the saloon model but beneath its conventional lifting hatch is a luggage area of epic proportions. There's 633 litres of room with all of the seats in place and when they're folded, that figure rises to 1,865 litres, larger than some studio flats.

When owners are hoisting all that cargo inside, they'll be glad of the low-loading lip at 600mm and of the lighting system Skoda has integrated into the tailgate. This illuminates the boot area and the ground around the rear of the car to help prevent owners blundering into a giant puddle with an arm full of priceless antiques. An additional light is removable and doubles as a handy LED torch.

Inside, the cabin is as comfortable for a family of four as you'll find this side of a luxury saloon. The quality of the fixtures and fittings is as good as anything Volkswagen has to offer and, as a result, better than in almost all the Superb's direct rivals.

There are S, SE and Elegance trim levels available with the Superb and equipment levels are pretty good. The S derivatives are fairly utilitarian load-luggers but there's remote central locking, electric windows, electric heated mirrors, roof rails, 16" alloy wheels and split folding rear seats.

The Haldex 4x4 system is widely available with the Superb Estate's more powerful engine options and will bring extra security in slippery road conditions, as well as some additional gravel driveway prowess. The DSG gearbox is another option that deserves to prove popular, as is the panoramic sunroof and the sliding boot floor that extends out over the bumper to help when loading heavy items.

There are lots of 4x4s and MPVs to tempt family car buyers at the moment but there's life in the old estate car yet. Few cars of any type can carry as much as the Skoda Superb Estate but it's more than just raw capacity. The luggage area has been cleverly designed, the cabin space is similarly generous and build quality is as good as you'll encounter in a large family car. Skoda is never going to be the last word in urban cool and we'd avoid the less powerful engines if you plan on using the car's full potential but otherwise there isn't much to fault.

The Government Scrappage Scheme is available until the Government funding is utilized or until the scheme ends (whichever is sooner). Trade in vehicles under the Government Scheme must have been registered on or before 31/03/09 and under AGS15 between 01/05/09 and 31/03/09. The leaser of a trade in vehicle should have a UK address shown on the V5C and have been the registered keeper of the trade in vehicle for at least 12 calendar months before the end date of the new vehicle. Also a trade in vehicle must have a current MOT certificate at the date of the new vehicle and must be under 2.5 tonnes in weight. Under AGS15 there is no obligation to give any trade in vehicle and the new vehicle purchased must be a Nissan UK sold vehicle (MICRA, NISSA C+C, NOTE, QASHQAI and QASHQAI+2 only). The PIXO is only available as part of the Government Scrappage Scheme and not part of AGS15. Full Terms and Conditions apply (see your local Nissan dealership for details). Schemes not available in conjunction with Motability or any other offers. Terms and Conditions subject to change without prior notice. Excludes Channel Islands / Isle of Man. Offer available at participating dealers only. Images shown for illustration purposes only. Models subject to availability. All offers, prices and information correct at time of going to press. Refer to dealer for exact specification. This advert supersedes any previously advertised offers. Nissan Motor (GB) Ltd, The Nissan Office Park, Denham Way, Uxbridge, Middlesex, UB8 3PH.

Department Supervisor

£18,899 pa > Harlow

As the UK's leading provider of integrated cash handling services, we transport, store and process cash for a wide range of customers. To meet the challenges ahead, it's essential that we're supported by people who share our values - including our commitment to keeping our company performing to the highest standards.

Supervising our cash handling team, you'll be right at the heart of the operation. Responsible for a specified client or clients, you'll ensure that money entering and leaving the site is accounted for in an accurate and timely manner. It's fast paced, and you'll probably find that shifts fly by quickly. Good people management and communication skills are required, and it is important that you have a good head for figures. Computer work is involved, though training will be provided for this. A 10 year verifiable work/education history is essential.

In addition to competitive pay, we offer up to five weeks' paid holiday, pension scheme, life assurance, health checks, free uniform and childcare voucher scheme. We also believe in promoting our best people from within the business.

We are also looking for a Branch Manager and a Section Manager within our Harlow branch.

Essex County Council

(Dobbs Weir Road, Roydon) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2010

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of Dobbs Weir Road, in the Parish of Roydon in the District of Epping Forest from its junction with Essex Road to its junction with Sedge Green.

The closure is scheduled to commence at 8.00am on 12 March 2010 to 6.00pm 15 March 2010 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst works to construct a build out as part of the traffic calming scheme is undertaken.

The alternative route will be via Essex Road - Dinant Link Road - A10 Great Cambridge Road - A121 Winston Churchill Way - High Street - Monarchs Way - Eleanor Cross Road - Station Road - Highbridge Street - B194 Abbey View - Crooked Mile - Holyfield - St Leonards Road - North Street - Peck's Hill - Sedge Green and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 12 March 2010 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 11 March 2010.

Triumph sets up crucial weekend for Ladies

Thurrock II 3, Harlow 4

Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division

HARLOW moved level on points with second-place Croxtys as they overcame hosts Thurrock on Saturday.

With three games in hand over the London team, Harlow are in prime position to move ahead this weekend when they play two matches.

The visitors were slow out of the blocks and a goal down inside 10 minutes.

The hosts doubled their lead when a disputed short corner was awarded.

But Harlow rediscovered their passing game and went on the attack in the second half.

An all-around excellent display from Georgina Esterhuysen, who harried the Thurrock defence, helped Harlow get a short corner of their own just four minutes into the second period and Carolyn Rushton was on hand to slot the ball home from the set-piece.

Harlow drew level eight minutes later when again good work down the left by Esterhuysen enabled Sue Douglas to cross the ball into the danger zone in front of goal. Captain Emma Tweddle's dummy allowed Sonya Amos to shoot towards the back post for the waiting Rushton to slot home her second of the game.

A goal-line clearance from Jo Greene allowed Harlow to stay on equal terms.

The visitors pressured again and Rushton got her hat-trick with 12 minutes remaining. She ran through the centre of midfield before drilling in from the edge of the circle.

Thurrock equalised, but with three minutes left on the clock Anna Ferdinando pounced on a rebound from close range to give the visitors maximum points.

HARLOW: Rowley, Shearman-Slack, Hansson, Jo Green, Douglas, Tweddle, Rushton, Ferdinando, Esterhuysen, Amos, Byers, Figg.

Victory in drop zone key game

Harlow 3, Old Southendians 1

East Men's Hockey League, division four south east

A MUCH-needed win over lowly Old Southendians has kept Harlow's hopes of beating the drop alive.

Boosted by the return of experienced duo Stuart Kirk and James Smith, the team opened the scoring midway through the first half when some sloppy defending by the away side allowed Chris Shearman-Slack to slot in a rebound off the keeper.

However, the visitors quickly levelled through a lapse in concentration at the back.

Harlow grew in confidence in the second half and began to trouble the Old Souths defence.

The breakthrough came when Shaun Hastler made a tremendous run down the right wing to leave his marker standing. He received an exquisite long-range pass from Shearman-Slack and then nipped around the keeper and slotted the ball into the bottom left corner.

The visitors oushed on in search of an equaliser but Harlow defended superbly.

Late on, the hosts grabbed a third goal when Smith's perfect cross from the right side set up Kirk and his deft touch eased the ball past the keeper.

HARLOW: Johnson, Castle, Plumbridge, Jones, Krozka, Symmonds, Shearman-Slack, Smith, Kirk, Hagger, Hastler.

Anglers catch prizes!

STORT Valley Angling Society members and their families enjoyed their annual presentation evening at Burnt Mill Snooker Club.

The trophies were evenly shared between several anglers.

Andy Turnbull claimed six, including

TOP HAUL: Anglers with their prizes

the much coveted Terry Criddle Memorial Cup. Veteran Bill Beehan lifted five trophies, which included the season-long league trophy, the Poole Cup. Mick Westby, chairman of the Harlow club, along with secretary Bob Groom won four apiece with the latter bagging the prestigious Pete Harris Points Cup. Other winners were Danny Cruse, Steve Beehan, Ross Deadman, Tony Henson, Malcolm Gregg, Steve Turnbull and Chris Rees.

Derek Dampney won the Senior Citizen's Cup and was voted the Society's Most Promising Angler. Junior member Ryan Head enjoyed an outstanding season winning the senior Pike Cup. He also scooped 10 junior trophies, with Ben Heywood taking the remainder.

Rams' show derby desire

RESOLUTION was present by the bucket load as Harlow gained a narrow win at Braintree.

The Rams did not concede a try in Saturday's match which could have gone either way.

The win saw Harlow climb into sixth spot in the table and the victory was also marked by a good performance from talented Colts debutant fly-half Danny Smith.

His display was a plus for the Rams' policy of developing home grown talent.

He kicked three penalties in the first half and his general play was promising.

Smith grew in confidence as the game progressed and

Braintree 9, Harlow 14
RFU London div two north east was instrumental in keeping the play in the Braintree half.

The club took the chance to blood him as regular fly-half Michael Dobson is out with a broken nose.

Rams director of rugby and scrum-half Lee Harron said: "We could not get Danny registered in time for the Mersea game and he was disappointed not to play then."

"He's a sensible lad and did very well. The penalties were not easy or hard but more a test of nerves."

"He handled the physical side well and made his tackles. He led the line well."

Harlow had to defend well against some fast and tricky three quarter play from Braintree.

The Harlow pack was also in great form, dominating the line-outs and mauling.

In the first half the two sides swapped penalties to leave the half-time score 9-9 at the interval.

Braintree's outside centre and top scorer Craig Willis kicked three penalties.

After the break, Harlow twice came close to scoring a try on the blindside before they went ahead in the 50th minute. Skipper Scott Romaine, playing at flanker, broke away on the left side, 30 yards from the try line and held off two defenders.

He was tackled before he made the line but his momentum took him over for the touchdown.

Shortly after, Willis missed a difficult penalty attempt for the hosts and the Rams were forced to defend hard in their own 22 in the last quarter.

Harron led by example, pulling off some tremendous try-saving tackles as the Rams held on for their sixth win in 2010.

Harron added: "We controlled the line-outs and scrummages for 60 minutes but we then tired. We showed tremendous defence in the end to keep them out with good tackling and turnovers."

The Rams host Sudbury in the league this Saturday.

Trio shine in Essex inter counties tie

Cross country

THREE Harlow school pupils lit in solid performances when they represented Essex in a South East of England Inter-Counties Cross Country Championships at Eastleigh in Hampshire on Saturday.

Burnt Mill School student Amelia Barrett (13) was 17th in the U-14 girls 2.6km race in 9 mins 48 secs and her run helped Essex to second place behind a very strong Surrey team in the 10-team contest.

In the U-13 girls 2.3km race, Alicia McArdell (12), from Mark Hall School, was 40th in 8:54.

Perry Rowan (13) from Burnt Mill, winning his first county call up, clocked 10:29 in the U-14 boys 2.9km race for 37th.

There were around 80 youngsters in each race.

Burnt Mill's Phoebe Fuhr (10) gained a silver medal in the indoor miniathlon event at the Lee Valley Athletics Centre in North London.

She came first in her heat and second overall in the 60m hurdles (12.7s) for year 4 and 5 girls, second in the shot put (6.55m) and 18th in the 200m out of 36 runners overall.

Lacey Fuhr (9) got a bronze for competing in three events – a 60m race, 200m and shot put.

They were presented with their medals by Great Britain athlete Marilyn Okoro.

Essex Cup loss for U-15s

HARLOW U-15 were knocked out of the Essex Cup by Chingford at the quarter-final stage.

The score was 0-0 but the Londoners went through as the away team

Harlow U-17 beat Datchworth 34-10 on Sunday in a friendly match.

Harlow opened the scoring through skipper Denzel Crafton's penalty.

Datchworth scored an unconverted try but this sparked Harlow into action as Andrew Goodchild powered through four tackles to score.

The conversion was kicked.

Shortly before half-time, scrum-half Ryan Clark made a break and offloaded to Dave Brigenshaw who out-paced the covering defence to cross the whitewash for a converted try.

Harlow led 17-5 at the break.

Datchworth caught the Young Rams napping soon after the re-start to notch an unconverted try.

But this inspired Harlow and when the Datchworth fly-half attempted to kick clear from behind his try-line, he was charged down and Harry Flynn was first to react and fall on the loose ball to score an unconverted try.

Ben Hockley's mazy run ended with another try out wide, although the conversion was missed.

There was still time for Harlow to score again, as their pressure told and a sweeping move between Ryan Clark, Ryan McGlone and Crafton gave space for Brigenshaw to use his pace to go under the posts for his second try of the match and Harlow's fifth.

A team spokesman said: "This was a really good all-round performance, and an excellent win over a real old foe."

HARLOW: Pedder, Flynn, Buckridan, Foster, Evans, Dunn, Norris, Goodchild, R. Clark, McGlone, Moore, Crafton, Brigenshaw, Hunt, Hockley.

Two wins boost league placing

Cambridge Cougars 59, Harlow Hawks 61

Herts County Basketball League, div one

AN excellent fightback from a weakened Harlow Hawks side culminated in Mark Haddow scoring two points at the death to clinch a two-point victory at Cambridge Cougars.

Hawks, who were struggling with injuries and absentees, trailed 39-22 at the halfway stage but recovered to get back to 59-59 in the last 30 seconds before Haddow's late scores.

Second teamers Mike Kuzniarz and Elvino Falcao were drafted in to give the visitors seven players on Sunday.

Hawks went 4-0 ahead but they let Cambridge get the easy open shots and the hosts were 22-9 up going into the second quarter.

A lack of teamwork stymied Hawks in the second quarter and they only scored eight points in nine minutes before getting five in the last minute.

Harlow found themselves 17 points behind at half-time break.

The second half began with a Cougars score to put Hawks down 19 points.

Shab Niaz hit a long range bomb to start a 9-0 run for the Hawks, who out-scored Cougars 20-10 in the third period cutting the deficit to 49-42.

Cougars started the stronger in the last quarter, going on a 6-2 run in the first three minutes but Hawks responded with 13 unanswered points.

However, Hawks were three points down going into the last 30 seconds before Jessop scored a three-pointer pointer to tie the game.

An exciting climax saw Kuzniarz open for a baseline jump shot that just rimmed out before Haddow scored with one and a half seconds left.

Haddow went to the free throw line and hit both his shots to give Hawks a 61-59 victory.

HARLOW HAWKS: Jessop (23 pts), Haddow (18), Moss (13), S Niaz (3), Burgess (2), Kuzniarz, Falcao.

West Herts Warriors 70, Harlow Hawks 72

Herts County Basketball League, div one

THE disappointment of being knocked out of the National Founders Cup was put to one side by Harlow Hawks when they gained a narrow win at Watford-based West Herts Warriors.

Hawks started well last Wednesday with a jump shot and a three-pointer from Nick Moss to take a 5-0 lead.

The visitors continued to move the ball well and the quarter ended with Moss finishing under pressure for a 17-10 lead.

Hawks coach Shab Niaz made changes for the second quarter, but his side only scored nine points.

The visitors committed a number of turnovers which saw them trail 28-26 at the halfway stage.

Shab Niaz hit a couple of long-range efforts and two good finishes from Russ Allan kept the scoreboard ticking over in the third quarter as Hawks trailed 44-40 going into the last quarter.

It was 52-52 with two minutes left. Zaf Niaz then scored his first points in the contest before Warriors struck five unanswered points to take a three-point lead with a minute left.

Hawks trailed by two points with seconds remaining before Moss was found under the basket to tie the game at 59-59 and send it into overtime.

Heading into the final minute of over time Hawks found themselves two points down.

But good scoring from Shab and Zaf Niaz gave Hawks a lead which they held until the final buzzer.

HARLOW HAWKS: Jessop (22 pts), Allan (18), S. Niaz (12), Moss (10), Z. Niaz (5), Haddow (3), Norkeliunas (2), Spashett.

Hawks notch up first win

Cont'd from back
Harlow gave debuts to new midfield signings Fiston Manuella and Danny Hayes. Manuella's clubs this season have included Heybridge Swifts and Billericay Town, while Hayes has played for Redbridge and Waltham Abbey.

The visitors had the edge in a goalless first half.

Shaun Gliddon fired over on seven minutes while the lively Reece Dobson forced two saves from Roberts on 28 and 42 minutes.

Three minutes after the break, Hawks keeper James Hasell blocked a Callum O'Shea shot before tipping over the rebound from Penny.

Harlow broke the deadlock on 52 minutes.

A neat one-two on the left between Dobson and Gliddon ended with the former racing into the box and firing in.

Harlow had the edge in chances before VCD equalised on 90 minutes. Nick Hegley broke down the left before his cross was turned in by Penny, but Bunn turned party pooper. Cunningham added: "It was a great win and a big relief to win. There is a lot of spirit. We showed a lot of commitment."

HARLOW TN: Hasell, Protheroe, Knight, Chapman (Warren 61), Thomas, Manuella, Maxwell (Ferrari 84), Hayes (Bunn 71), Dobson, Osei, Gliddon. Sub not used: Harlow (gk). Att: 79.

Late winner denies Cunningham first game point

THE Hawks' hopes of even a draw at Northwood and a first point in 2010 were snatched away with an 88th-minute winner for home substitute Will Hudson.

A mixture of good goalkeeping from James Hasell and resolute play saw Harlow hold their opponents to 1-1 with two minutes of normal time left on Saturday.

However, a Danny Power cross from the right was headed on by Anthony Page and Hudson nodded home.

Harlow included midfielder Shaun Gliddon in his first game back for the club. He has re-signed from division one

Northwood 2, Harlow Tn 1
Ryman League division one north north rivals Maldon Town.

Early action saw home keeper Bobby Smith keep out a shot from Craig Charles but it was the hosts who threatened more in a goalless first half.

Hasell pushed a Michael Peacock shot over the bar on seven minutes and tipped a Gilbert Nuako effort around a post on 32 minutes.

The Harlow keeper also dived at full length to keep out a shot from Leon Osei.

The home side went ahead on 48 minutes. A move down the right saw Aaron Cato's cross fall loose and Chris Seebey's 20-yard shot was deflected off Hawks defender Danny Chapman, over Hasell and into the net.

Two minutes later, Hasell made an excellent save to keep out a Leon Osei shot and at the other end Smith was forced to make two good saves to deny Reece Dobson on 52 and 63 minutes.

Hasell came to Harlow's rescue again on 70 minutes when Leon Osei's shot was blocked by the keepers' legs and away for a corner.

On 75 minutes Hawks sub Aaron Scott made it 1-1. A Spencer Knight free-kick from the right was tapped away by Smith before Scott, with his back to goal, turned and fired home from eight yards.

Dobson and Emmanuel Osei, another former Hawk who has returned to the club, missed chances for Harlow before Hudson popped up to snatch the late winner.

Hawks keeper Callum Horton was forced to come off the bench in injury time and play as an outfield player when defender Liam Thomas received a head injury.

HARLOW TN: Hasell, Protheroe, Knight, Chapman (Scott 66), Thomas (Horton 90), Maxwell, Charles (Warren 77), S. Gliddon, Edwards, E. Osei, Dobson.

Samuel sacking was inevitable

THE departure of Marvin Samuel as Hawks boss after just 12 games may come as a surprise to some fans even though he was given the dreaded vote of confidence when the new regime took over at Barrows Farm.

But results speak volumes and co-owner Tommy Cunningham ended Samuel's short tenure as Harlow had lost every game since the turn of the year.

The club confirmed last Wednesday that the fans' favourite had been sacked.

Samuel had won only one game in his 12-game spell in charge – his first job as a manager.

With the trapdoor to the Essex Senior League looming large in front of Harlow Town, Cunningham and the board clearly felt they had to act now and must surely go for experience to ignite the flickering flame of survival at Barrows Farm.

Striker Wayne Grant has also quit the Hawks and has teamed up with Samuel at Essex Senior League side Enfield 1893.

Cunningham took charge of the Harlow side for Saturday's Ryman division one north trip to Northwood (see report above).

Samuel, left, was only appointed at the end of November and his first game was against Northwood – a 4-2 defeat at Barrows Farm.

He was the second Hawks boss appointed by then chief executive Carol Bothwell in the space of five months.

She had appointed another rookie boss, Anthony Anstead in July, but his side only won two league matches and he went in November.

The arrival of Samuel was heralded in December but despite bringing in more than 20 new players, the colourful-haired and charismatic character was unable to turn around Harlow's fortunes.

The side's only win came against Romford over the busy Christmas and New Year period of games.

However, Samuel has certainly not had his share of luck.

Prior to Tuesday's win over VCD Athletic, Harlow had won just once in their previous 22 matches.

The side are 12 points behind third-from-bottom Leyton with 13 games remaining.

Samuel may have gone, perhaps lacking the nous to kick start Hawks' fight for survival in his fledgling management career, but his heart remains at Barrows Farm and Harlow Town will need someone with his passion for the club in order to stay up.

Holders in Essex Junior Cup KO

ESSEX Junior Cup holders Alemite Athletic were knocked out of this season's competition when they lost 3-2 at Byfleet Rangers.

Saturday's last four tie needed extra time before Athletic's fate was sealed.

In the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District Football League Inter Divisional Cup semi-final, goals from Spencer Bull, Harry Cogan and Mark Vintinner saw Hatfield Heath reserves beat Frontiers 3-1 at home.

James Bender netted for the visitors.

Hatfield will face Heath Rovers reserves in the final after the latter hammered Albury 5-0 at home courtesy of goals from Paddy Hathaway (2), James Crane, Chris Lilley and Charlie Nash.

Meanwhile, premier division leaders North Weald went down 3-0 at Old Street.

Roydon Weekes bagged a hat-trick.

Other results:- Prem Div Cup 1st rnd – Heath Rovers 1, Loughton 0.

No timescale in search for new boss

He should make his debut in Harlow's home clash against Tilbury this Saturday.

"I have known him since he was at Wingate and Finchley and he is a good player," said Cunningham.

"We now have Kevin Warren and Shaun Gliddon and Reece Dobson who can play on the left-hand side and it is often difficult at this level to fill the left side with natural left-footed players."

He added: "I am still looking for a centre forward but it is difficult to get one in."

Cunningham was pleased with the impact of new midfield signings Fiston Manuella and Danny Hayes in the win over VCD Athletic on Tuesday – Hawks' first victory in 2010.

"Credit goes to Kevin Warren for recommending them. They did very well," he said.

Cunningham has appointed former Welling United caretaker manager Lee Protheroe as first team captain and Danny Chapman is club captain.

Bill Songhurst has returned to the club from a spell at Takeley. He is the new reserve team manager.

Harlow visit Redbridge in the league this Tuesday (7.45pm KO).

Swedes fail to make a Marc!

FORMER Sweden World Cup star Marcus Allback was the missing link as division two team Orgryte played at Barrows Farm this week. The former Aston Villa striker has quit as boss of the Swedish team to become the new assistant manager of the national side.

Orgryte trained at Harlow Town Football Club on Sunday and Monday and played a friendly against a team from League One club Charlton Athletic.

Yeovil boss Terry Skivington was among the crowd which saw a 2-2 draw.

Hawks boss Tommy Cunningham said: "It was a fantastic exercise. Charlton were also impressed with the facilities and may come back again."

"It may be this season or it may be next. We have also spoken to the likes of Spurs, West Ham and Reading [about using Harlow Town FC's facilities]."

Trio of big wins for teamsDarts

WHITE Admiral, Servo Link and Young Pretenders all produced comprehensive 8-0 victories in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League.

Admiral won at Harlow Hawks despite a 180 for Hawks' Russell Foxwell.

Admiral's Andy Hentall also struck a maximum.

Link sealed victory at Moot House.

Roy Leftwich and Paul Holloway hit 108 and 116 outshots respectively.

Pretenders won at Colt Hatch.

ST Colts beat Stow Snooker 6-2 away.

This was in spite of 180s from Stow's Ronnie Yates and Alan Hance.

Crusader lost 2-6 at home to Tye Green Whites. Whites' Mick Rout enjoyed a 100 outshot.

Damian Green hit two 180s, taking his season's total to eight in Moot House Arrows' 4-4 draw with Tye Green Foxes.

United Glass's best performance of the season saw them take seven out of the eight points against Golden Swift.

Mitchinson loses out

STEVE Mitchinson's bid for an appearance at the National Bowls Finals in Worthing was dashed as he lost to John Tully (Barking) 21-15 in the area final.

Meanwhile, his Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club won against Barking 11-2 to stay top in the Essex County League.

There were wins at home for skips Steve Mitchinson and Paul Smyth, while skips Steve Tucker and Richard Haley triumphed in away rinks.

Derby victory for squash club keeps side in top three

THE local bragging rights went to third-placed Harlow Squash Club's first team as they won 4-1 at Bishop's Stortford in division four of the Herts League.

Fifth string Andy Davis completed a hard fought straight sets win (15-13, 15-13, 18-16).

Fourth string Dan Collison lost in straight sets (12-15, 11-15, 7-15).

Third string Mike Symmons had a pulsating match but ran out a 15-11, 7-15, 15-5, 8-15, 15-12 victor.

Second string Dave Gear lost his first set 12-15 but then dominated to win 3-1 (15-11, 15-7, 15-12).

First string Ian Gould also lost his first set, 13-15, but then battled to a hard-fought 3-2 win (15-13, 15-10, 7-15, 15-9).

Harlow's second team lost tot second-placed Haileybury 3-2 in division five.

First string Vinh Tram lost in straight sets (9-15, 10-15, 7-15).

Second string Peter Izatt lost a close encounter 15-10, 7-15, 10-15, 15-4, 11-15.

But there were wins for third string Laurence Peacock, fourth string Rob Coghlan and fifth string Richard Lewis.

Fearless Osagie onto World stage

ANDREW Osagie insists he will run without fear when he makes his senior Great Britain international debut at the World Indoor Championships in Doha, Qatar, this weekend.

The 22-year-old Harlow Athletic Club member qualified for the Aviva GB and Northern Ireland team after finishing inside the 800m qualifying time on his way to third at the Birmingham Grand Prix, just a week after clinching gold at the World Indoor Trials and National Championships.

It represents a significant step for ex-Leventhorpe School pupil Osagie, who burst onto the scene with a run of 1 min 47.34 secs as a junior in 2007, only to see his progress stalled by persistent injuries.

Osagie's main problem was growing pains but with his body now fully developed – and a personal best of 1:47.15 registered in 2009 – the rising middle-distance star is planning to ruffle some feathers in Qatar.

"My confidence is sky high at the moment and my training is going really well so I will be looking to turn heads at the Worlds," said Osagie, of Northbrooks, who clocked 1:47.71 in Birmingham.

"I need to realise that I have earned the right to be there and not shy away from the task at hand.

"Doha will be a huge stepping stone in my career and I can't wait to get out there and perform.

ON THE RUN: Andrew Osagie in action last month (s)

"My aim out there is to not just make up the numbers. I will tackle it with the same attitude I did for Sheffield and Birmingham and make sure I get through the first round and carry on from there.

"The times being run are not out of my reach so the semi-final and even the final are not out of my reach if I perform to my best on the day."

While Osagie isn't short of self-belief, he fully expects to have butterflies in his stomach when he lines up for his heat in Doha.

"I hope that when I get there any nerves I have will bring the best out of me," he added.

"I guess I will be quite an underdog in Doha but that suits me fine. I don't mind that and I will hopefully thrive off of it.

"I definitely think I will step up when I get there. Representing Great Britain on such a big stage will fill me with great pride and will be a huge honour.

"I have had injury worries in the past, bone-wise, but they are out of my mind now. I still have a few niggles. I had a tendon problem in my hip last season but that has been managed really well.

"I will try to not put too much pressure on myself. I will be excited when I am out there and will try not to worry and just make the most of it.

"I am 22 now and to get my first senior vest is great and it will be a massive honour to represent my country in Doha."

Closure of pretty 10th hole leaves golfers in the rough

GOLFERS have been left in the bunker after Harlow Council's health and safety officers shut down the picturesque 10th hole at Canons Brook Golf Club. A temporary green has been set up on the hole which offers a beautiful view of Roydon as you play up to the flag at the Elizabeth Way, Harlow, course.

HOLE LOT OF TROUBLE: The 10th hole at Canons Brook Golf Club (HSP0623351)

The closure follows a series of complaints from the owners of a 17th century house – which can be found to the left of the green – because of errant shots hitting their property.

Canons Brook's vice-captain Alan Howick said work to install a new green, which would need planning permission, would not start until the autumn as the course is gearing up for the start of its busiest time of the year.

"The course architect is going to redesign the hole," explained Howick.

It could cost up to £30,000 to replace the hole. However, greenkeeper Mark Paxton is devising a top-notch temporary hole to enable competitions to be staged this summer at the club, which was designed by golf legend Sir Henry Cotton and built in 1962.

The owner of the property beside the 10th green has lived there for 15 years but has grown tired of errant shots hitting his property.

The problem escalated when a council health and safety officer visited the site and actually watched a ball hitting the house, it is believed. He promptly closed the green on health and safety grounds.

"We found it difficult to accept all their accusations, but people have said they are well within their right," said Howick. "There is no protective fencing."

Fencing protects some parts of the course but to install this at an adequate height would cost the club a whopping £100,000. Howick said the green's closure had already cost the club some members but he was confident that the course would be even better when the hole reopens.

"We have apologised to all members. We have got to maintain the integrity of the course, but members are understandably upset. I find it difficult to comprehend that balls actually hit the house unless it hits the road and springs up.

"We are now looking at raising the revenue for this project [up to £30,000]."

Meanwhile, work is to begin in three weeks' time on a project to build new changing rooms at the club. This is costing a substantial amount and is the first time the changing rooms have been upgraded in 40 years.

Work will then start on improving the 17th century barn which homes the clubhouse.

20 vision for club's top runnersRunning

SEVERAL Harlow Running Club members competed in the Essex 20-Mile Championships held at Great Bromley near Colchester.

First home for Harlow in his first race at this distance was Gavin Brett in a superb time of 2 hours, 23 minutes and 59 seconds.

He was followed home by Jamie Jephcott in a personal best (PB) time for the distance of 2:25.40 and Andy Terrell, also in his debut at the distance, in 2:27.14.

First Harlow lady was Dionne Jones in a PB of 2:32.29, which was also a fantastic 10-minute improvement on the HRC Ladies Veteran 40 record.

Not far behind was Katie Herrington in her debut race at the distance in 2:45.19.

There were also PBs for Steve Ambrose, Jon Steadman and Sean Flynn.

Other Harlow RC results:- John Bull 2:28.24; Dionne Jones 2:32.29 PB and V40 club record; Steve Ambrose (2:34.53 PB); Jon Steadman 2:36.41 PB; David Croly 2:40.44; Katie Herrington 2:45.19; Sean Flynn 2:41.00 PB; Derek Seymour 2:55.12; Matt Jones 3:04.32; Joanne Chung 3:11.31; Clare Williams 3:18.42; Alison Bull 3:24.41; Susan Dewen 3:33.37; Susie Morley 3:36.59; Wendy Spring 3:39.22.

● AT the Grizzly Run in Devon, a muddy, hilly, boggy, beachy multi-terrain circuit, Harlow's Graham Pugh finished in 3 hrs 36 mins.

Marc Lowers completed the Milton Keynes Half Marathon in a personal best time for the distance of 1 hr 35 mins 1 secs.

Joanne Mills completed the Newham London 10K race in 55 mins 18 secs and finished as second Veteran 60 Lady.

Hawks notch first win in 2010

SUBSTITUTE James Bunn popped up to score the Hawks' winner against VCD Athletic in the fifth minute of injury time and secure their first win of 2010. Minutes earlier, VCD had come back to make it 1-1 through Danny Penny in Tuesday's match at Oakwood. However, Harlow were not to be denied. A neat right-wing move ended with Emmanuel Osei teeing up Bunn who had moved intelligently into space before he shot past the advancing home keeper Tim Roberts and into the net. Bunn was making only his second appearance since re-joining Harlow. Hawks' celebrations at avenging the home defeat to VCD 12 days ago were tempered as midfielder Ryan Maxwell had been badly hurt minutes earlier. He went up for a ball and fell awkwardly on 84 minutes. The game was stopped for several minutes before he was stretchered off and taken to hospital. Acting Hawks boss Tom Cunningham said: "Ryan fell awkwardly. His back went into spasm and he had a numbness in his legs. He had got some feeling back in his legs and he went to hospital as a precaution. They did not want to take any chances." >> Cont'd on 86

YOU'RE FIRED: Marvin Samuel, whose spell as Hawks boss only lasted 13 weeks and 12 games (HSP0616871)

ALL CHANGE: Hawks co-owner Tommy Cunningham (IMG 8490)

Samuel: I was doomed as manager when TC took over

MARVIN Samuel believed his future as Hawks boss was doomed the moment Tommy Cunningham took over as co-owner of the football club.

Samuel (35) claims he and Cunningham had a fractious relationship when the former Leyton Orient defender was manager of the team which contained the colourful-haired midfielder in 2005.

Midfielder Samuel eventually quit the club he loved to join Arlesey in 2005.

Samuel, who replaced Anthony Anstead as Harlow boss at the end of November, said: "He [Cunningham] was the reason I left as a player. We are two individuals who will never be able to work together. As a bloke I don't dislike him. But we are two completely opposite sides of the spectrum and will never meet.

"We did not get on. I thought things might have changed but obviously they had not."

Samuel had won just one game in his 12-match spell in charge. This came against Romford on December 12.

The Hawks have only won one game in 2010 and had picked up one victory in 23 matches up until Tuesday night's win over VCD Athletic. They remain bottom of Ryman division one north.

This was Samuel's first job in management.

He introduced more than 20 new players but the combination of bad luck, poor finishing and shambolic defending cost his side dear.

Samuel explained: "I was not really given a chance. He [Cunningham] did not appoint me. He wanted to get his own man in. It was on the cards that it was going to happen. I am disappointed but I knew the job would be hard. I only stayed for the fans.

"I think in the long term I wasn't in Tommy's plans. He was not really happy with the appointment I made as assistant manager [Clasford Stirling].

Stirling has also been fired. Samuel was told he was sacked by Cunningham on the phone last Wednesday. This was while the Hawks co-owner was on holiday in Tenerife.

It was a dramatic change of events as only 6 hours earlier Cunningham told the Star that Samuel would remain in charge and he had every confidence the club could turn things around.

However, Samuel is relieved his tenure is over. He said: "It's quite a relief. I was being strangled. I was not getting the support to do the job, not only financially. It was a mess. It was the culmination of lots of things."

But Samuel was pleased he came back to try and save the club. "It was a great experience. As long as the club goes forward I am more than happy with the decision."

Despite his departure he is praying Harlow can stay in the Ryman League. "I have faith that they will get out of it - if the new manager gets the backing which I did not!"

"You can see things were changing visually. I brought in men rather than young men. Respect is a big word but I think I have gained a few people's respect and given people the opportunity to show what they can do at this level."

Cunningham would not comment on Samuel's allegations but said: "I wish Marvin all the best for the future."

No timescale to bring in new boss

TOMMY Cunningham has set no timescale for bringing a new manager to Harlow Town FC - after sacking Marvin Samuel last week.

The 54-year-old Hawks co-owner and director is currently running team affairs with defender Kevin Warren.

Without revealing any names Cunningham said yesterday (Thursday) that more than 10 people had already applied for the vacant manager's job, but he will take his time over a new appointment.

He said: "I want to slow things down a bit and not do things too quickly. I do not want to be changing managers every three months."

"I want it to be for the long term. I will know the person when I meet him. Once I can get the right person all the other things will fall into place. A number of people have applied and it includes people who have managed at this level or above."

Cunningham has no bias as to whether he will appoint a rookie or an experienced boss. Both the previous two managers (Anthony Anstead and Marvin Samuel) were new to management.

"I appointed Ryan Kirby (2006-07 season) and we won promotion [from Ryman League division one north] that season."

Cunningham has signed left-back Mike Haswell from Chelmsford.
